Police Department News

March has been a busy month for the Police Department. The month started with a severe ice storm on the morning of March 2nd, and as many of the town residents left for work the Police, Fire and Emergency Management Departments worked in conjunction with the Highway Department to access the damage around town and notify the power company of wires down. The northern section of Tolland was hit hardest with Schoolhouse Road being almost impassable. Clubhouse and East Otis roads were also hit hard.

Access to Ona Rd and Landsend Drive in North Tolland were completely blocked by trees and live wires. In the town center a section of a maple tree took out a primary line on the green, closing one lane of Route 57 for most of the day and night. As most residents discovered when they returned home that evening, the electricity was out and the damage around town was extensive. The power company responded around 6:00pm and worked very quickly to restore power to many sections of the town. The Police Department remained on duty late into the night and was back out early on Saturday and out until late in the afternoon. In total the police department was on duty for 20 hours straight on Friday and 8 hours on Saturday. I would like to thank the residents for their patience and the Fire and Highway Departments for their help in clearing trees and blocking roads that were unsafe to travel.

The police department would like to remind residents that when the Police or Fire Departments block a road off with signs or yellow tape it is for the public's safety. On several occasions tape and barriers were put up to block access to roads and drivers drove around the barriers or removed them, and in one case on Beetle Road, cars actually drove over power lines. This is a reckless act which not only endangers the driver, but also needlessly risks the lives of any rescuers who would have to come to their aid if anything were to happen. So please... when a road is blocked, find an alternate route home. Don't risk your life or someone else's life to save a couple of minutes on your way home.

Tolland needs a Flag!

So far this is what we have for a Tolland Flag. We have received ideas from one ten-year old young lady only. And those ideas are very good. Doesn't anyone else have any ideas about how Tolland's flag should look? What does Tolland stand for? What does it mean to you?

We are trying to design a Tolland Flag for the Great Hall of Flags at the State House in Boston. It is our hope to have the flag designed, sewn and delivered prior to Tolland's bi-centennial in 2010. Concepts will be accepted from anyone who is a member of a tax-paying family in Tolland.

Please deliver your ideas, drawings, etc., to the Tolland Public Library by June 15th (extended date). This is a collaborative project between the Tolland Public Library, the Tolland Historical Society, and the Tolland Board of Selectmen.

Council On Aging

The newly appointed chairman of the Tolland Council on Aging (COA), Bob Maselek, is starting to plan the year's activities. He, along with kind help from Gert McKay, will be trying to have one function each month for the area elderly, generally on the Third Thursday of the month. If you hear of some event happening on the Third Thursday at Tolland Town Hall chances are that it is connected to the Council on Aging. Bob is new to Tolland. He, his wife, son, and daughter in law are very excited to be having a log cabin built in Wildwood. Bob is a certified SHINE counselor (certified by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to assist and counsel elders with health insurance and Medicare issues).

Please watch this space for news helpful to the elders of Tolland. We will inform you of Third Thursday activities as well as all other news and information specifically useful to the elders of our community .

The Tolland Council on Aging will hold a spring Foot Clinic on the Third Thursday in April, (Thursday, April 19, 2007) from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Tolland Town Hall. There is room for ten people to have their feet evaluated by Foot Nurse, Joan Angelo, of Lee. Tolland elders will be given first preference but, if room is available, elders from surrounding towns may also attend. While the foot screenings are free, if persons wish to include a pedicure as well, they are asked to please make a special donation since the grant to the COA that funds the clinic does not cover services, only screenings. A home visit in Tolland can also be arranged for those who cannot come to the clinic. The COA will call all Tolland seniors, but you may also call Bob Maselek, Tolland COA Chairperson, at 508-877-0380 or Elethea Goodkin, Regional COA Coordinator, at 413-562-1095 to schedule an appointment with the Foot Nurse.

Senator Knapik at the Town Hall:

Senator Knapik will be available at the Town Hall on May 7th at 11:15am for anyone who wishes to meet with him.

We have one CPU available for public use and, with the support of the voters, we will have another CPU and a wireless printer available after July. So come bring your laptop or use our computer to get what you need at a better speed.

Tolland Public Library Toddler Story Time

We are offering a Toddler Story Time to all families with children 0-4. We will be reading stories and exploring the Library. There will always be a little surprise to take home. This is a family time and parents are expected to be active in the program with their little ones. No registration is required and all are welcome. The program will be held on Thursdays at 11:15 beginning on May 3rd through June 7th. The program will probably last for 30 to 45 minutes. Hope to see everyone there.

There is a Doctor in the house!

When I first came to Tolland and joined the Tolland Ladies' Aid Society, every year we would learn who had applied and been granted monies from the Bertha Hale Scholarship Fund. Every year I heard the name Tina Baceski. I had never met Tina, but it was obvious that she was a diligent student. Then it became obvious that she was a professional student as her name continued to be mentioned each year. Many years after my initial wonderings about this Tina Baceski, I met Tina Baceski. She has since helped out tremendously at the Library by filling in for the staff when our kids are sick or field trips appear. She has always fit right in and takes good care of our Library. I am happy to say that after all these years and her attempts at answering my question "Who is this guy Hume?" Tina has achieved her doctorate degree and the title of Doctor Tina Baceski. My congratulations to her. I am proud to know her and so happy all these years later the TLAS supported her.

Scholarships at the Library

Copies of the Granville-Tolland Scholarship application are available at the Library. Coming soon will be a common scholarship application from the STRHS which includes the Bertha Hale Scholarship (Now that Tina is finally done...) We also have a new 2007 edition of Peterson's Scholarships, Grant and Prizes, listing all nationally available scholarships.

Dollars for Scholars Financial Aid Tip of the Month

Brought to you by New England Dollars for Scholars and Nellie Mae

P.O. Box 214, Granville, MA 01034-0214 www.tolland-ma.gov

Excuses, excuses! What's the hold-up in filing your FAFSA student-aid form?

Need help paying for college next fall? High school seniors and their parents should focus like a laser on completing the all-important, annual Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon as possible. Not only is FAFSA the gateway to federal student aid, most states and colleges rely on FAFSA to help formulate nonfederal aid awards. Since January 1, millions of students have been filing or renewing their FAFSA. If you haven't filed yet, what's the hold-up?

"I won't qualify for federal aid anyway, so why bother?"

Actually, everyone filing the FAFSA is eligible to receive some form of financial aid, whether it is grants, low-interest federal loans, or student employment. Federal student aid offers both need-based aid and merit-based aid. Colleges, states, and scholarship programs also use FAFSA in awarding nonfederal aid. Nellie Mae urges all students to just file their FAFSA (it's FREE) to confirm their eligibility status. In 2004, a shocking 1.8 million undergraduates who did not submit a FAFSA were actually eligible for free Pell Grants. Why? The vast majority wrongly assumed that their low- or moderate-income families made too much money, according to a 2006 study by the American Council of Education (ACE). Be sure you don't miss the boat!

"I want to file a FAFSA, but I don't know how."

Visit www.fafsa.ed.gov and apply online, or get a paper FAFSA application from your high school guidance counselors, the library, or print the application from the FAFSA web site. Completing your FAFSA online has the added benefit of built-in checks to flag errors, inconsistencies, and lets you fix errors online. Leaving fields blank can cause processing delays of up to three weeks, which may reduce your final aid package. Follow instructions, and take the time to avoid mistakes that might delay processing your FAFSA application.

"What's the rush? Our 2006 taxes aren't done yet."

Financial aid is handed out primarily on a first-come, first-served basis, so early filing can mean a better financial package. It makes sense to get your FAFSA in before your school allocates its pot of federal and nonfederal financial aid. To encourage early filing, FAFSA allows you to estimate those taxes then update your application online. Better yet, try to file both your taxes and FAFSA early. Think refund!

"My home life is pretty complicated right now."

Maybe you've recently lost a parent, or a parent has lost a job. Perhaps a stepparent won't provide the information you need to complete a section of the FAFSA. Maybe your parents' recent separation or divorce is making the paperwork a confusing mess. If the help section of the FAFSA web site can't guide you, count on your guidance counselor to advise you on special circumstances. Whatever the circumstances, you must provide truthful information. Your signature on the FAFSA is a promise that the specifics you reported are accurate, and all the data is subject to verification.

"I hope to start school next fall, but it's not definite."

Then it's wise to complete your the FAFSA form now. Filing is free. You're under no obligation to attend, but if you decide to apply to college later in the year, you're all set.

"What if I need help completing the FAFSA?"

Talk to your guidance counselor, visit the FAFSA's excellent web site at www.fafsa.ed.gov, or call the FAFSA experts at the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 800-433-3243.

Students and parents can also turn to Nellie Mae at www.nelliemae.com to learn more about the financial aid process, federal student loans, and other financial aid options.

Fire Department News

The meetings/drills for the month of April are the following Tuesday nights, April 10th and April 24th from 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. Anyone who wishes to stop by the fire house during this time, please feel free to do so.

Be sure your calendars are marked for Saturday April 14th for the Fire Department's Pancake Breakfast at the Town Hall from 7:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. We look forward to seeing you there.

Congratulations to Ann, Brian and Dave for passing the First Responder Course. We now have three more First Responders for medical calls.

A few weeks ago Tolland had an ice storm which left our town without power and with many roads blocked due to multiple fallen trees and limbs. I would like to thank the Tolland Police Dept., D.P.W., Selectmen and Emergency Management Officer for working together. During the power outage the Fire Dept., along with the Police Dept., went around and checked in on the elderly and special needs residents in town. Thanks again to all who helped! A reminder, when you see power lines down, for your safety, please do not drive over them.

On March 14th the Fire Department performed an ice rescue drill at the Tunxis Club. Members went into the icy water wearing ice rescue suits. We used our ice rescue sled to practice rescuing a victim (a member) who had fallen through the ice. All went well, it was a great drill.

The following are the responses from February 21st through March 20th:

February responses:

- No calls

March responses:

- 1 Medical Call
- 1 Ice Storm
- 1 Electrical Fire

WESTFIELD - Air National Guard 104th Fighter Wing Airman Ian O. McAlister recently became the first airman ever to achieve perfect scores on the F-15 Eagle fighter aircraft avionics course at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas.

The 20-year-old Monterey resident was the first airman with the 104th to take the 18-week avionics course. McAlister, who grew up in Tolland and was home-schooled, said he knew he was doing well, but was as astounded as anybody when he hit the perfect scores. "I was pretty confident that I could do well," McAlister said. "But, a 90 is one thing and a 100 is totally different. . . I had no idea this was going to happen."

The class teaches Air Force members how to repair, install and calibrate electronic systems in the F-15 aircraft, to which the unit will start converting towards the end of this year. This particular course has been offered since 2003, and more than 405 students have graduated with an average score of 87 percent. The course has seven different blocks, and McAlister is the first trainee to attain 100 percent on each of the seven block tests. "It gave my instructor-supervisor a smile, which is pretty rare," McAlister said of his accomplishment at Sheppard. "The avionics career field is perhaps the most academically challenging enlisted career field in the United States Air Force today," said McAlister's supervisor, Chief Master Sgt. Stephen A. Murphy, component maintenance flight chief for the 104th. "This achievement speaks volumes and further emphasizes the skills and abilities that our Air National Guard members possess."

McAlister, who joined the unit in August 2005, is the first there to receive the F-15-specific training. "That's part of the process," said Capt. Matthew T. Mutti, public affairs officer for the 104th, adding that in this stage of things, it doesn't make sense for newer members such as McAlister to take on training specific to the A-10 attack jets, which the unit will soon exchange for the F-15s. The 104th will receive a maintenance trainer F-15 this October, and the unit's actual F-15s will start arriving in late October through December. The entire transformation, and along with it the 104th's new mission of homeland security, won't be complete until September 2008, Mutti said.

McAlister lives with his parents, Steven and Rose Mary McAlister, and began college at Simon's Rock in Great Barrington. McAlister, who has taken a year off from college, said he will likely finish his senior year at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. McAlister said he has always loved electronics and "hands-on" things and that his part-time career with the 104th has been a good way to further his education and interest.

Sandisfield Arts Center

Sandisfield Arts Center Opening Night to Feature International Soprano with acclaimed Arron Chamber Ensemble. Saturday, April 14th, at 8pm is the opening performance for the Sandisfield Arts Center's 2007 season. The evening pairs two favorite performers from past years – Rachel Luxon, an accomplished British soprano – and from the stages of Lincoln Center and Carnegie Hall – the Arron Chamber Ensemble. Together they will perform an oratory feast of operatic and classical music.

Sandisfield, MA, March 22, 2007 – For the opening night performance on April 14th at 8pm, the Sandisfield Arts Center welcomes back two popular performers to their Performance Hall – the British soprano, Rachel Luxon, and the Arron Chamber Ensemble, featuring piano and strings.

Luxon, who is known for her beautiful voice and exceptional range, has performed operatic and musical roles, as well as solo recitals all over Europe and across the U.S, including performances at The Festival Hall, The Barbican, Birmingham Symphony Hall and St. David's Hall. At Tanglewood, she gave recitals in French song, American song and German lied, and performed roles in Ravel's L'enfant et Les Sortilèges.

In 2002 on the West Coast, and in 2005 in Boston, Luxon premiered a new commission by the American composer Chris Brubeck. She recorded it with Fredericka Von Stade, and the CD was released in December 2005.

Luxon will be accompanied by the Aaron Chamber Ensemble. The scheduled repertoire includes classical composers such as Rachmaninov, Strauss, Williams, Beethoven, Pleyel and Brahms.

The virtuosic sound of the Arron Chamber Ensemble is a product of an accomplished array of international musicians from the U.S. and Asia. Members include violinist Abraham Appleman, cellist Edward Arron, violist Ronald Arron and pianist Jeewon Park.

Born in Yokohama, Japan, Abraham Appleman began his music studies at age four, and made his debut at 15, in the Boston Symphony orchestra. Since then, he has performed around the world as a violin soloist, concertmaster, and chamber musician, and can be heard as a soloist on numerous CDs and motion picture sound tracks. During the summer, he is a member of the faculty of the Verbier Festival in Switzerland and often performs with the BSO at Tanglewood.

A graduate of Juilliard, Edward Arron performed with Yo-Yo Ma and the Orchestra of St. Luke's before making his recital debut in 2000 at MOMA in New York City. Since then, he has appeared in prominent venues throughout the U.S., Europe and Asia in recitals, orchestras and chamber ensembles. This is Arron's fourth season as artistic coordinator of the Metropolitan Museum Artists in Concert, whose performances are broadcast live on New York's classical radio station, WQXR. He is also artistic director of the Caramoor Virtuosi and the Alpenglou Chamber Music Festival in Colorado.

Violist Ronald Arron, a Chicago native, has had a distinguished musical career that included performing, directing and teaching his craft. As a young musician in the U.S. Army Strolling Strings, he performed routinely at The White House. He also had significant tenures with the Cincinnati Symphony and Metropolitan Symphony Orchestras, and also performed with the Berkshire Opera, Naumberg Orchestra, Stamford Symphony, New York Pops and many summer music festivals.

Pianist Jeewon Park is garnering attention throughout the world for her dazzling technique and poetic lyricism. Since making her debut at age 12 with the Korean Symphony Orchestra, Ms. Park has appeared as a recitalist, chamber musician and soloist with orchestras throughout the Americas, Europe and Asia. After garnering many music honors in Korea, and being broadcast on radio there, Park moved to the U.S., and has since graduated from both Juilliard and Yale.

Tickets to the Performance are $20. For reservations, call 413-258-4100. For additional information, please contact Susie Crofut or visit www.sandisfieldartscenter.org <<http://www.sandisfieldartscenter.org/>> .
